Under 49 U.S.C. section 14706(1)(A)(B) and the terms and conditions set forth on the reverse page of this Forwarder Bill of Lading, Forwarder limits its liability. The Customer has had the choice to ship the Goods and to pay (A) the Forwarder's regular/lower rates for goods with limited value and a corresponding limited liability for the Forwarder or (B) ad valorem rates for goods not so limited in value and a corresponding increased level of liability of Forwarder, the basis for which rates is the Forwarder's regular/lower rates plus a declared valuation charge of $.75 per $100 of declared value for the Goods. The sum of which equals and "Increased Liability Freight Rate" for the Carriage. Unless the Customer declares the nature and value of the Goods prior to the Carriage, sets forth the same on the front page of this Bill of Lading, and pays the corresponding increased Liability Freight Rate, the Customer knowingly and willingly elects to ship under the Forwarder's regular/lower rates, the consequences of which is that in no event shall the Forwarder or its servants or agents be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connection with the Carriage of the Goods in an amount exceeding $.50/pound or $50, whichever is greater.
